DEDICATION

THE DECODER

This year we will depart from the usual tradition of selecting a person for our yearbook dedication. We feel this one invention has given so much to the deaf that we needed to recognize this achievement by dedicating our 1983 White Columns to the Telecaption Adapter otherwise known to us all as the "decoder".

The decoder has opened up a new world for the deaf. It has allowed the deaf to "hear"television programs that before only hearing people could hear. We also would like to salute ABC, NBC, and NCI without whom there would be no decoder.

6th ANNUAL MASON DIXON

We finally win 4th. place!!

Gina tried to jump high, so she could give the ball to Lisa.

We give the opponent a hard time to drive in.

Gina gets inside at right time and shoots smoothly.

Lisa tries to monster them out! So she can have the ball.

Wonder Kim has guts to face the big opponent.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Ball is well guarded by "All American" Carol.

"All American" Gina makes a strong shot even with a hand in her face!!

Carol Harper wins "All Tournament" trophy.

Tina accepts the gift for our school.

Mr. Lawson is our excellent coach who increases our spirit to win!

The Mason-Dixon girls' tournament held in Alabama this past year was most rewarding to the Virginia ladies. At the tourney our girls played to their very best abilities and came home with a fourth place trophy for their efforts.

Especially gratifying was the play of our All-American tandem in Gina Tester and Carol Harper. Lisa Bott, perhaps the most talented newcomer to our program also made a name for herself in her first year as a starter. Carol was named All-Tourney and Tester and Bott gained a number of ballots in their quest for the honor.

I am very proud of the young ladies that represented our school so well, and consider them to be indicative of our fine educational and sports program here at V.S.D.B.

Dear Readers:

I hope you will enjoy reading this yearbook designed by our White Columns Staff. We worked very hard. We gave up our time to concentrate on this good yearbook. It is my first experience as Editor this year and I have learned a lot! We thank Mr. Jim Robertson for his help.

We are proud of this yearbook. We hope you are too.

Sincerely yours
Gina Tester
Editor
